Re: SCE&G Nuclear Plants

Date: July 14, 2008

Re: (Docket No. 2008-196-E)

Dear Mr. Terreni,

This plant must be stopped at this point in time, so that a fair and complete hearing can take place in October. This rush to pre-construction is totally out of order. Further more, the citizens of South Carolina deserve to know all the facts that surround nuclear energy, especially the hidden costs, the renewable options, and the endangerment to our environment and our water resources along the Broad River. With a 10 year lead time on construction, there is no reason to rush this particular part of the process. We may be better advised to avoid this excessively costly project before we even get started. Without appropriate hearings, we may never have the opportunity to exercise that option.

Thank you for considering this position in your decision making.

Dear Mr. Terreni,

This plant must be stopped at this point in time, so that a fair and complete hearing can take place in October. This rush to pre-construction is totally out of order. Further more, the citizens of South Carolina deserve to know all the facts that surround nuclear energy, especially the hidden costs, the renewable options, and the endangerment to our environment and our water resources along the Broad River. There is no reason to rush headlong into a process we may later regret. With a 10 year lead time on construction, there is no reason to rush this particular part of the process. We may be better advised to avoid this excessively costly project before we even get started. Without appropriate hearings, we may never have the opportunity to exercise that option.
